DISSOLVE A TRUST (Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—The Federal District Court held that central railroads ownership of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company a combination in restraint of trade. And the railroad must sell.

The men of commerce are divided into two classes—the builders and the wreckers. We leave the classification of the brewers and distillers with you, dear reader.

INVESTIGATIONS IN VACCINES FOR CANCER (Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Cancer investigations cost the lives of 87,253 animals in England and Scotland during the year of 1914, states a report issued by the home office. Of these experiments, 21,746 were in the nature of inoculations and were performed almost entirely upon mice to test vaccines. The public health department used something over 24,000 animals in various experiments.

COST OF MAKING SHELLS FOR FRANCE

(Correspondence of the Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The French shell makers have had some difficulty in obtaining the necessary quantities of steel suitable for projectiles. The largest iron-producing region is in German occupation, and home production has had to be supplemented by orders abroad, chiefly in the United States. Besides ordering their steel in the United States, the French shell manufacturers have also bought there most of their hydraulic machines for shell forging. Most of the shells ordered for France in America have been unfinished, the finishing of them being committed to French industry with the object of helping out the small manufacturer who would otherwise be idle and whose works are not equipped for the production of the shell from start to finish.

The cost of producing shells has been greatly reduced since the war began, by the immense scale on which they are produced and by the use of the most modern machine tools imported from the United States. The price paid for the 3-inch shells at the beginning of the war was equivalent to $7.60. This price has been reduced by one-third. American makers of large size calibres are, it is understood, receiving for 6-inch shells about $10 apiece.

These prices are for unloaded shells; the charging of them is not trusted to the makers from the private contractors, but is done in the private arsenals. All these shells must be made with extreme precision for long range work but for short range to pitch shells at the trenches from half a mile to 2 miles old guns can be used and castiron shells.

COMMISSIONER UPHELD IN COMPENSATION CASE (Associated Press)

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 28.—The right of J. E. Phelps, state insurance commissioner, to fix the liability for insurance rates and designate accepted companies under the workman's compensation act was upheld by Judge George A. Sturtevant in the superior court. The decision was given in a favorable ruling on a demurrer interposed by Phelps in an injunction suit brought by Dyer Bros., owners of an iron works.

THIS LADY MUST HAVE LIVED IN NEW JERSEY

A stranger appeared in the local ticket office of the S. P. Co., recently and said to Agent Wilson:

"What time can a man get to Gadsden."

"About 9:30," replied the obliging representative.

At this juncture, a nervous woman slipped up in the place previously occupied by the man and asked, timidly,

"Please, sir, can a woman go at that time, too."

The look on the astonished agent's face has not been recorded.
